Have a Break in Beautiful Bruges

FlyAway travel is proud to announce their new four-day break to the beautiful city of Bruges. FlyAway travel have been and established tour operator since 1988; we have over 80 branches throughout the UK and have a wealth of experience in organisation short breaks, long holidays and adventure breaks throughout the UK and Europe. Take a look at this great break.

Places to see in Bruges

- Check out the chocolate! For all you people with a sweet tooth Bruges is the chocolate capital of Belgium
- The Beguinage In 1937 the Beguinage became a monastery for the Benedictine sisters who still live here now.
- The Belfry and the Cloth Hall The highest tower in the city
- The Archeological Museum These houses contain a wide variety of material witnesses to Bruges' past discovered during excavations.

What's the Weather Like in Bruges?

Climate

The climate in Belgium is similar to that of the UK. The summers are mild (the average temperature is 16°C) but the winters are colder than you might expect thanks to an icy wind that blasts down from the Baltic.

The weather is unpredictable in all seasons with sudden showers as likely as bright sunshine, so it's worth packing for all temperatures. The winter days are short, but in summer it is not unusual to enjoy the sunset at 9 or 10pm.
